ANNAPOLIS JUNCTION, MD - October 25, 2018 - Colfax Corporation (NYSE: CFX), a leading diversified industrial technology company, today announced its financial results for the third quarter of 2018.

The Company reported net income from continuing operations of $38 million or $0.29 per diluted share, compared to $0.35 in the prior year quarter. Colfax also reported third quarter 2018 adjusted net income of $63 million or $0.54 per share compared to $0.46 per share for the same prior year period.

Third quarter 2018 net sales of $875 million were 4% higher than the comparable period of 2017. Excluding acquisitions and foreign currency translation effects (FX), Fabrication Technology segment sales grew 10%, and Air & Gas Handling segment sales decreased 12%. Third quarter 2018 Air & Gas Handling orders increased 29% to $338 million compared to the prior year period. Excluding acquisitions and FX, orders increased 16%.

Third quarter operating income was $60 million versus $75 million in the prior year comparable quarter. Excluding restructuring, adjusted operating income was $76 million as compared with $82 million. Fabrication Technology segment adjusted operating income of $56 million and margins of 10.6% were affected this quarter by the short-term impact of inflation, currency, and tariffs beyond in-quarter pricing. Air & Gas Handling adjusted operating income was $34.4 million, and margins increased sequentially to 9.8% as a result of restructuring actions and improved project margins.

“Third quarter financial performance was in-line with our expectations,” said Matt Trerotola, Colfax President and CEO. “Fabrication Technology organic sales growth accelerated for the seventh quarter in a row, and we are driving additional price actions to cover inflation. Air & Gas Handling orders returned to organic growth in the quarter, and its operating margins expanded sequentially from the second quarter as expected due to cost actions and improved project pricing.”

During the third quarter the Company acquired Advanced Combustion Inc. (ACI), a leading global provider of heaters for cold-weather mines and ACH Equipos Ltda. (ACH) the leading servicer of ventilation systems in the Chilean mining industry. These businesses are included within the Company’s Air & Gas Handling segment. The ACI and ACH acquisitions are expected to contribute annual revenues in excess of $30 million. In early October, the Company completed its previously-announced acquisition of Gas Control Equipment (GCE) for its Fabrication Technology business.

“The ACI and ACH acquisitions expand our technology and service offering for mining ventilation where we have a clearly differentiated offering for customers,” said Mr. Trerotola. “GCE expands our presence in specialty gas applications and combining GCE with Fabrication Technology’s global presence and continuous improvement culture will drive both businesses to achieve new heights of success. We welcome the new associates to the Colfax team and look forward to their contributions to our growth.”

Following its third quarter performance, Colfax revised its adjusted earnings per share outlook for the year from $2.15-$2.30 to $2.20-$2.30.

“Colfax is expected to end the year with adjusted earnings per share growth of 26% or more,” said Mr. Trerotola. “We expect a strong performance in the fourth quarter, led by continued Fabrication Technology business growth and sequential margin improvement, expanded Air & Gas Handling margins, and further benefits from our restructuring actions.”
